About MitraAid

MitraAid is a community-first aid response and donation platform designed to strengthen local resilience through rapid support, knowledge sharing, and volunteer mobilization. We connect certified responders, donors, and citizens to ensure timely help during emergencies.

Our integrated approach brings together health professionals, youth volunteers, and organizational partners to build safer communities. We promote collaboration across sectors—emergency response, blood donation, disaster preparedness, and humanitarian outreach.

MitraAid is supported by regional partners and inspired by global resilience frameworks. We welcome feedback, partnerships, and contributions to expand our impact.
